

NEOTEX S.A., a leading manufacturer in the fields of Liquid Waterproofing, Resinous Flooring, Energy Saving and Repairing solutions, is growing and is currently looking for an R&D Director to join our Research & Development team in Mandra, Attica.

Main Responsibilities:

- Lead and manage the R&D department for :
 - Research & Development of new products
 - Continuous improvement of existing products according to new demand trends in Greece and internationally.
- Oversee and supervise the planning & execution of the department's research projects.
- Remain aware about technological developments & market trends and submit proposals to senior management.
- Collaboration with research centers for the development of innovative technologies.
- Ensure the company's compliance with industry regulations and quality standards.

Required Qualifications:

- Strong experience in a similar position.
- Strong leadership and organizational skills.
- Project Management.
- Team spirit, adaptability, methodical approach, flexibility, achievement-oriented, commitment to results.
- Advanced English language skills

The Company Offers:

- Competitive salary package
- Company Car
- Health Insurance Program
- Performance bonus
- Well-organized and friendly working environment
- Training and development opportunities